HOLY NAME SONS PASS IN REVIEW

Over 6,000 Catholics March
Up Pennsylvania Avenue.

PAGEANT A BIG SUCCESS

Priests and Laymen Join in Glowing Testimonial.

Procession Unique in History of Nation's Capital—Baltimoreans in Line—Vast Throngs Masses on Monument Grounds, Where Speeches Are Made—Father Fitzgerald and M. I. Weller Talk Interestingly.

With skies unflecked, and giving benison to the scene, the sons of the Holy Name Society marched up historic Pennsylvania avenue yesterday afternoon and filled the vista between the Capitol and the Treasury with an inspiring religious spectacle.

The final chapter of the pageant was written in the shadow of the Monument, where the broken lines of the paraders, 6,000 strong, gathered on the green slopes to hear the joint commendation of priest and layman, which was pronounced a glowing testimonial to the ardor of their faith.

CROWDS SWUNG PARADE.

When the marchers swung around the Peace Monument, as the hands blared "Onward, Christian Soldiers," the broad expanse of the Avenue was well lined with crowds, which amply attested the interest of Washingtonians in the parade.

The spectacle fulfilled, and more than fulfilled, the bright promises its promoters had made.

In solid columns, eight abreast, the procession stretched the entire length of the Avenue from the Botanic Gardens to Fifteenth street. The six divisions were even larger than had been anticipated.

An heroic task confronted Chief Marshal Hall and his aids in whipping the sections into a harmonious and smoothly flowing entirety, but when it got under way there was not a Holy Name man in the line of march who did not know the parade would prove a splendid triumph for the society.

They marched in review before some of the august dignitaries of the church, stationed at the New Willard, including Bishop Corrigan, of Baltimore, the papal delegate, Diomedeo Falconio, and Mr. Mackin, and proudly led past the White House to the Monument grounds.

Patriotic Aids Played.

It was whispered that some observers spied President Taft watching the procession from one of the windows of the Executive Mansion, and when the bands passed by they played patriotic airs with a zest well calculated to draw the Presidential ear.

There was not a single break in the plans which had been made, unless the hour's delay caused by the 2,000 Baltimoreans could be so termed. They came in two special trains, one of thirteen coaches and the other of eight, reaching the Union Station just before 2 o'clock. The aviation meet at Haleshorpe delayed

ELECTION DAY WEATHER.

The Weather Bureau last night forecasted "generally fair" weather for to-morrow, election day. The bureau's bulletin follows:

"During the first half of the week the weather over the districts east of the Rock Mountains will be generally fair, except that light rain or snow will fall Monday and Tuesday over the Great Lake region, and Monday night or Tuesday in Northern New York and New England, attending a disturbance that will move eastward along the northern border from the extreme northwest. This disturbance will be followed by cooler weather in the Northwestern States, the Upper Mississippi Valley, and the Lake Region, Monday or Tuesday."

WEDS, THEN TRIES TO DIE.

Aged Planter and Schoolgirl Elope in Tennessee.

Dresden, Tenn., Nov. 6.—Thomas C. Gaskins, a planter, who married Lizzie McDonald, a schoolgirl and playmate of his great-grandchildren, is dying from the results of a knife wound inflicted shortly after the ceremony by himself.

The old man is past seventy. He was accused of eloping with the girl and forcing her to accompany him to Paris, Tenn., one mule carrying bride and bridegroom. According to a document exhibited here, however, the youthful bride forced Gaskins to sign an ante-nuptial contract before she consented to the marriage, giving her every penny of a large estate "during and after his life." The marriage took place three days ago. Gaskins cannot live through the night.

Want Aeronaut to Pay Duty.

Paris, Nov. 6.—Willows, the Welsh aeronaut who started Friday afternoon in a dirigible balloon from London to Paris, but who was compelled to descend near Douai because of loss of gas, is being held up by the French customs authorities, who demand 700 francs due on the petrol he carries. Gardemans are guarding the air ship until the duty is paid.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For the District of Columbia and Maryland—Fair to-day and to-morrow; rising temperature to-morrow; light westerly winds.

TON OF DOCUMENTS.

Friar Land Probe Leads to Immense

Amount of Data.

Manila, Nov. 7.—Secretary of the Interior Worcester, Director of Lands Sloper, Attorney General Villamor, Secretary Carpenter, and their assistants have sailed for the United States. Their object is to testify in connection with the investigation by Congress of the sale of friars' lands. They carry with them more than a ton of documents.

A bill has been introduced in the assembly demanding the immediate removal of Secretary Worcester because of his alleged insults to the Filipino race in a recent speech. The bill has much popular support, and petitions have been received from the provinces urging its passage. The native papers persistently denounce Mr. Worcester with bitter hatred and publish many caricatures of him, which are prompted by the deepest animosity.

FALL KILLS ACTOR.

Ascension Act Fatal to Jacques

Kruger at Detroit.

Detroit, Nov. 6.—Jacques Kruger, the actor, who, while playing with the "Follies of 1910" company, fell from the flies of the Detroit Opera House last Wednesday, died in Harper Hospital early this morning.

Mr. Kruger fell eighteen feet while doing an ascension act. He was impersonating John D. Rockefeller on his way to heaven. He struck on his feet in the center of the stage, but his brittle bones could not withstand the violent jar. One leg was broken in three places, and complications of the heart and kidneys set in Saturday, and his advanced age prevented recovery. He was sixty-nine years old and his home was in New York City. He had acted in both Shakespearean and low comedy plays.

In 1896 he sang Fritz in "The Grand Duchess" at his first English performance in America in New York City. More recently he has spent two years supporting Elsie Janis, Mary Irwin, and Pauline Hall. He toured England with Willie Edouin, and played for a long time with Mlle. Almes.

FIRST TIME HERE.

American Aged Fifty-six, Born in Russia, Reaches New York.

New York, Nov. 6.—Walter Whinnans, hansomman, crack revolver shot, and sculptor and painter, saw to-day for the first time, as he came up the bay aboard the White Star liner Celtic, the land of which he is not only a citizen, but where he has all the political privileges of a native.

Mr. Whinnans was born in St. Petersburg about fifty-six years ago while his father, William L. Whinnans, formerly of Baltimore, was building railroads for the czar. The father dreaded a sea voyage, and that, it is said, was his chief reason for never returning to the United States. He settled in England, but retained his American citizenship, and his son, although pretty well Anglicized as to speech, has done likewise.

One of the first questions he asked was about the condition of his string of sixteen horses which arrived on Saturday. After learning that they were in fine shape, he said they would be taken from the ship to-morrow, and intimated that he expected some of them to carry off prizes at the horse show.

AUTO TURNS TURTLE.

One Man Killed and Three Injured

When Axle Breaks.

Newburgh, N. Y., Nov. 6.—A chauffeur was killed and three wealthy and well-known New York club men were injured when an automobile, owned and driven by John Ellis Roosevelt, a lawyer, overturned on the Pine Bush road, about one and one-half miles west of Walden, this forenoon.

Two large touring cars, filled with prominent New York professional men and bankers, left New York on Friday to take a trip through the country, intending to return home to-day. One car was owned by John Ellis Roosevelt, a cousin of former President Roosevelt, a lawyer, residing at 65 Madison avenue; George H. Robinson, a banker, of Mount Vernon; and John T. Hill, a merchant, of New York. They had with them Alexander Ebbel, as chauffeur.

Mr. Roosevelt was at the wheel. While going about twenty-five miles an hour, the rear wheel struck a soft spot in the roadbed, causing the car to skid and in doing so the axle broke at the knuckle on the left side. This caused the car to turn turtle, and the occupants were all thrown out. The car turned over a second time and then stopped.

The chauffeur had been killed instantly by having his skull fractured. Mr. Roosevelt was unconscious, but soon rallied. He had sustained only a contusion of the eye and some body bruises. Mr. Robinson had a fractured rib.

Mr. Hill was the worst injured of the party. He had both arms fractured a short distance above the wrists, the left arm having a compound fracture, which may necessitate amputation. The injured men were taken to St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, for treatment.

Popular $100 Excursion, Sunday, November 13, Baltimore & Ohio R. R. To Frederick, Keedysville, and Hagerstown, from Union Station at 8:30 a. m., returning leave Hagerstown 6:30, Keedysville 6:30, and Frederick 6:30 p. m. same date.

GOT HIM GUESSING.

PITTSBURG WOMEN IN MOCK ELECTION

Spend Money Freely to Give Men an Object Lesson.

Pittsburg, Nov. 6.—Women of Pittsburg will to-morrow hold a mock election for governor of Pennsylvania. The club women have bank rolls and will begin spending money at daybreak. While it is not likely there will be any open buying or selling of votes, there will be "inducements" of certain kinds offered to get the vote out. Automobile rides, &c., for example.

A canvass of the city garages this evening finds that every public automobile has been engaged for to-morrow, while almost every club woman interested in the election has at least one automobile of her own. If the day is fair the vote promises to be something worth counting.

There will be two polling places. The main polls will be opened at 7 a. m. in the great banking rooms of the American Deposit and Trust Company, in the downtown district. A hall in the East End has also been rented. Names of officers and workers for the main polling place were announced to-night. The list comprises the names of women well known in society.

"The women of Pittsburg desire to put themselves on record once for all in the matter of governorship elections," said Miss Mary Bakewell, who will be main judge at the downtown election place and who has just finished an exhaustive examination of political conditions in the city. "We will conduct an election as it should be conducted. We have already spent much money getting our ballots printed and in other campaign expenses, and we expect to have a very busy day. Yes, we will make a special effort to get out the vote at the lunch hour. We will have automobiles to lorry the ladies from department stores and from schools to vote, and we will take them back to their places of work as soon as they have voted."

ENDS LIFE ON CAR.

Young Philadelphian Shoots Self

Besides His Fiancee.

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—Lack of employment and no prospects of getting any caused Lafayette Maddock, twenty-five years old, of 726 Craig street, Holmesburg, to shoot himself to-day as he sat in a Fox Chase trolley car with the girl whom he expected to marry.

Miss Nellie Callahan, who is eighteen years old, and lives at 230 Sigel street, was returning from Fox Chase with Maddock at an early hour, when, without warning, he drew a revolver and shot himself. The girl fainted and the motor-man put on speed and ran his car in front of the residence of Dr. J. R. Knight at 730 Second street pier. Maddock was dead and the girl was revived after hard work by the doctor.

Miss Callahan told the police that she and Maddock were engaged and that they had expected to be married on November 26.

OKLAHOMA FEARS CLASH AT ELECTION

State and Federal Authorities
Prepare for Conflict.

Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 6.—Preparations are making for a conflict between Federal and State authorities at the election next Tuesday over the enforcement of the new grandfather clause amendment to the State constitution. Arrests under Federal laws against conspiracy will follow attempts to prevent negroes who can read and write from voting. Federal Attorney John Embury's ruling that a negro's ballot must be accepted if he makes affidavit that he can read and write has been forwarded to Federal commissioners, with instructions to enforce the State election laws. The Federal authorities have jurisdiction because Congressmen will be elected.

The State Supreme Court has decided the grandfather clause constitutional, and Seth Gordon, the State election board's secretary, has wired all election officials that their returns will be thrown out if they accept affidavits of negroes who attempt to vote as proposed by the Federal authorities. In Oklahoma City 3,000 rounds of ammunition have been received at the armory of the National Guard company, and all its members have been notified to assemble Monday for drill as the company may be called out on election day. Gov. Haskell has said that other militia companies will be held in readiness.

BIG SHIP ASHORE.

Largest Sailing Vessel Pounding to Pieces Near Dover.

London, Nov. 6.—The five-masted ship Preussen, the largest sailing vessel in the world, lies wrecked in Crab Bay, Dover, where she is pounding on the rocks in a fierce southwest gale. Her crew are still ashore, it being impossible, on account of the heavy sea, to reach her.

At 10 o'clock last night the Preussen was in collision with the Channel steamer Brighton, bound for Dieppe from New Haven, with ninety passengers. The steamer was considerably damaged, but returned safely to New Haven. The Preussen lost her bowsprit and jib boom, and possibly sustained other damage. She drifted away in the darkness. This afternoon she was flung ashore in a gale. Toward midnight those on the wreck gave the first sign of life, sending up signals of distress. The lifesboat is now making another attempt to get alongside the Preussen.

The Preussen is a steel vessel of 4,765 tons with a cargo capacity of 5,000 tons.

Police Race That Failed.
London, Nov. 6.—Two policemen disguised as cyclists, saw a licensed victualler at Stansted hand a slip of paper to a customer yesterday, and, producing their authority, proceeded to search the man for evidence of betting. The paper proved to be a coupon given away with tobacco.

PROMINENT BREWER DIES BY SHOOTING

Anton Schwartz Grieved Over
Death of His Son.

New York, Nov. 6.—Anton Schwartz, president of the Bernheimer & Schwartz Brewing Company, at 123th street and Amsterdam avenue, shot himself fatally in his apartment at the Central Park-view apartment house, 21 Eighty-sixth street, this morning. He leaves a wife, who is the sister of Mrs. Josephine Schmidt, who owns the Lion Brewery and who was married to Don Giovanni del Drago, of a noble Roman family, eighteen months ago, and one daughter, Mrs. George E. Ruppert, of 5 Avenue Eighty-sixth street.

Mr. Schwartz's only son died five weeks ago of spinal meningitis. Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz were in Europe when the boy was taken ill. They reached New York twenty-four hours too late. Adolph had been graduated from a brewing college and was working his way through the brewery to learn every end of the business so as to be able eventually to take his father's place. It is said the shock of his son's death had unsettled Mr. Schwartz's health, and it is believed to be the cause of his suicide. Young Adolph was at work in the practice of the business as vat tender when he was taken ill.

Mr. Schwartz's wife was one of the two daughters of a wealthy Cincinnati brewer, and he first became interested in the brewing business when he married her. They came to New York, and Mr. Schwartz was connected with the Lion Brewery. He worked his way up in this concern until he became brewmaster. Simon E. and Max Bernheimer were prominent at that time in the Lion Brewery, and the three pooled their interests in 1903 and bought out the Manhattan Brewery, and so started the firm of Bernheimer & Schwartz. Mr. Schwartz was made the president, which position he had retained until the time of his death.

Mr. Schwartz was fifty-three years old. He was a member of the Liederkreis Club and a prominent figure in the German colony of New York.

PANAMA NOT COVETED

"Malicious Mendacity of Yellow Journal" Is Answered.

Panama, Nov. 6.—Relative to the statements published recently to the effect that the United States is dissatisfied with the government of Panama and considering making changes in the government here and referring to the financial position of the republic, the American chargé d'affaires to day advised Foreign Secretary Boyd:

"I am in receipt of special instructions from the United States authorizing me to emphatically deny that the President of the United States entertains such intentions against the integrity of Panama as have gained currency. My government earnestly desires that no credence be given at any time to the malicious mendacity of the yellow journals."

SHOOTS HIS GRANDMOTHER.

Lad Spys Target Rifle Was Accidentally Discharged.

Monticello, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Archibell Sherwood, son of Florence Zeigfeld, president of the Chicago Musical College, was arrested yesterday at Elkhardt, Ind., on a fugitive warrant, charging him with obtaining money on false pretenses by operating a confidence game. The warrant was sworn to by Myron D. C. Fagan, 124 South Troy street, a playwright, before Municipal Judge Cottrill last Thursday. Fagan accuses Zeigfeld of swindling him out of $150. Zeigfeld, until recently, was vice president and general manager of the Zeigfeld Theater, 246 Michigan avenue. He recently left Chicago with a company of which he is manager.

ELECTION INVOLVES MORAL QUESTIONS, SAYS ROOSEVELT

New York, Nov. 6.—Theodore Roosevelt to-night issued a statement in which he says in part:

"The election next Tuesday turns on vital moral questions, affecting the whole future of this State and of our people; and, therefore, it is our right and our duty to appeal to the whole body of honest citizens, irrespective of party ties. The powerful and crooked political organization against which we are pitted is now working hand and glove with all the great sinister interests of crooked finance, the breath of whose nostrils is special privileges. The sinister financial interests fatten on political corruption, and the bipartisan alliance between them and Tammany Hall is fraught with the gravest menace to the welfare of the plain people of the State. "Against this bipartisanism of corrupt politics and corrupt finance we have a right to expect the whole-hearted nonpartisan support of all honest citizens and particularly of all men who believe in honest politics and honest business."

He contrasted the records of Mr. Stimson and Mr. Dix in an effort to show that the former was a much more desirable man for governor. In support of his attack on Dix's labor record, Mr. Roosevelt quoted letters recently written by John Mitchell, former head of the coal miners, and Timothy Healy, international president of the Stationary Firemen, both of whom oppose Dix's candidacy.

In conclusion, he said: "Every wageworker should stand with us, for we are fighting the wage-workers' battle. Every honest citizen should stand with us, for we are fighting the battle of Abraham Lincoln's plain people; the Wall street-Tammany campaign has completely lapsed; they have not answered one argument of Mr. Stimson's. They have not advanced a single honest argument in their turn; they have been hammered out of every position they have taken. Their sole chance of beating Mr. Stimson and his policies, as frankly stated in the campaign circular by Tammany Hall through Wall street, lies in 'A large outlay of money.'"

"Against this frank appeal to the forces of corruption, we make our appeal to the conscience and the reason of all good citizens. The drift is overwhelmingly our way, for the good citizens of the State have begun to realize how vital are the issues at stake. Fundamentally, the issue is between right and wrong; between honesty and dishonesty; between the rule of the people and the rule of a corrupt and boss-ridden political machine, acting as the ally and instrument of the great financial powers that owe their existence to special privilege. I firmly believe we shall win, for I am confident that our people will not tolerate such an alliance; and I wish, for the sake of the honor of our State, to see the triumph overwhelming. For we owe it not only to ourselves, but to the children who are to come after us, to mark our utter abhorrence of the scoundrelism which would follow the success of such a coalition."

DIX NOW AT 2 TO 1.

Odds in Other Cities Are Much

Shorter Than This.

New York, Nov. 6.—The betting men met at the hotels to-day to fish for attractive propositions. At the Waldorf the odds were straight 2 to 1 that Dix will be elected, and two bets of $1,000 each were reported at these odds. There were a number of $500 to $250 and $200 to $100 bets.

What speculation there was on pluralities turned on the proposition that Dix would have 50,000. The betting was even on that, but the Dix brokers wanted 2 to 1 on 75,000 and 3 to 1 on 100,000. The bookmakers say that the New York election odds ruling in Chicago, Pittsburg, and St. Louis are much closer than here, and that some of the big bettors favor Dix over heavy commissions to the West, getting as good as 7 to 5.

The betting is even that the Democrats carry New York, New Jersey, and Ohio. Wagers were made at 5 to 1 that New York, New Jersey, Ohio, and Connecticut give Democratic pluralities, and at 1 to 2 that these four States and Massachusetts go Democratic. The odds, so far as they can be determined by the few wagers made, are 6 to 5 that the Sixty-second Congress will be controlled by the Democrats.

MILITIA MAY DISBAND.

Texas National Guardsmen Demand

Pardon for Convicted Members.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 6.—The perpetuation or dissolution of the Texas State National Guard now hinges on the ultimate disposition of the case of Sgt. J. D. Manley, sentenced to life imprisonment by a Dallas County Criminal Court as the result of an indictment alleging murder in connection with the death of a bayonet wound of Louis Reichenstein during the visit of President Taft to Dallas on October 23, 1908.

National Guard and regular army officers in Texas will present a petition to Gov. Campbell, asking him to grant Manley a full and unconditional pardon.

AWAIT VOTES

Friends of Administration
Are Apprehensive.

FEAR OHIO BALLOTING

Internal Factional Fights Rend
the Republicans.

APATHY IN MANY STATES

Defeat in New York Will Be No Reflection on the President and His Policies, but Ohio Is Considered Vital for 1912—Forecasts Generally Give House to the Democrats—Governors Will Be Chosen in Twenty-eight States—Socialists to Have Congressmen.

New York, Nov. 6.—Friends of the administration are looking forward with keen anxiety to the results of Tuesday's elections. They believe the President's official future will depend largely upon the outcome.

Mr. Taft's advisers acknowledge that if the Republicans are badly beaten in his own State, and the House goes Democratic besides, it will be a blow that will seriously handicap efforts to make the President the party leader again in 1912.

They do not believe, however, that a Republican defeat in New York State will in any way reflect upon the Taft administration. Issues there are too clearly drawn on Roosevelt and the things he stands for.

OHIO, though, the President himself has deliberately set forward the issue that the election is to be either an endorsement or a repudiation of the Taft administration, and it is carried the day, the Democrats and the President's enemies within his own party will make the most of the event.

The President, although still clinging to hope, is practically reconciled, it is believed, to the fact that the House is going Democratic. If it does, the Democrats will find him ready to drive ahead with his legislative programme, in the hope merit alone will insure the adoption of at least a part of it.

Governors will be chosen in twenty-eight States, and in thirty States legislators will be elected that will be called upon to fill vacancies in the United States Senate caused by expiring terms.

In the elections Tuesday the Republicans in nearly every part of the country bearing a G. O. P. complexion will have to contend against internal factional fights, in addition to the seemingly strong trend toward the Democracy. Warfare in the Republicans' own ranks jeopardizes Republican success in New York, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Iowa, and other States. As administration leaders here view the situation the Republicans will lose New York and Indiana, but have a fighting chance in Ohio.

House to Be Democratic.

All forecasts that have been made of the Congressional elections, except that by the Republican committee itself, gives the next House to the Democrats by majorities ranging from five to forty-five. President Taft's advisers look to see the administration hold its own, so far as Congressional districts are concerned, in the Pacific Coast and Intermountain States and in the West generally with a few exceptions. They fear the greatest falling off in the Republican strength in States east of the Allegheny Mountains.

The President is counting on the progressive wave to carry Republican Congressional nominees to victory in most of the Middle Western States, even in cases of regulars who have been renominated.

The indications are that the socialist party will be represented in Congress for the first time as a result of Tuesday's balloting. Two members of that party are running for Congress in Milwaukee. That city elected a socialist mayor a year ago. Victor L. Berger, one of the most widely known socialists in the country, is running in one of the Milwaukee districts. He is matched against Henry T. Goehms, a La Follette Republican. Berger has a good chance of election, as also does W. R. Gaylor, socialist, who is contesting the seat now occupied by William J. Carr, a Republican incumbent.

Elections in Many States.

Election of State officers besides governors will be held in thirty-eight States, Maine, Vermont, Louisiana, Arkansas, and Georgia have held their State elections, but the latter two will elect Congressmen on Tuesday.

The Prohibition party has tickets in twenty-five States and Socialists in thirty-four, the Social Labor in eight. The Independence League has a full State ticket in New York; the Keystone and Industrial parties each has a ticket in Pennsylvania; the People's Independent is in the field in Nebraska, and the American party, an anti-Mormon organization, has candidates up for election in Utah.

Prohibition is a live issue in Florida, Missouri, and Oregon, while the wet and dry question also has kicked up a big rumour in Nebraska. In Texas the incoming legislature will submit to the voters for approval of rejection a constitutional amendment providing for prohibition. Oklahoma will vote on a prohibition amendment.
